

MORE VESSELS SUNK BY RAIDERS

ENEMY U-BOATS STILL OPERATING OFF U. S. COAST

Seven Schooners and Four Steamers Sunk

(By Associated Press)
BULLETIN
NEW YORK, June 4.—The toll of dead and missing from the raid of German submarines against shipping off the American coast apparently stood tonight at fifty-eight, all from the Steamship Carolina of the New York and Porto Rico Line. Sixteen of this number are known to have perished, when one of the ship's boats capsized in a storm Sunday night after the vessel had sunk. The fate of the others is not known. Officials of the company have placed the number of passengers aboard the Carolina when she was attacked 125 miles off Sandy Hook at 220 and the crew at 130 making 350 in all.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Enemy submarines still were operating off the American coast today. A French tank steamer, the Radioline, first trans-Atlantic craft to be attacked by the raiders was saved from destruction at 9:30 o'clock this morning by an American destroyer 65 miles off the Maryland coast.

The same destroyer found the Goosling Schooner Edward G. Baird, Jr., sinking after having been bombed in the same vicinity making seven schooners and four steamers known officially to have been sunk by the raiders.

Announcement by the navy department of these facts late tonight upset the theory that the raiders probably were speeding homeward but coast patrol vessels had not acted on theory. They now are closing in from all directions on the scene of the raiders' last exploit, scouring the sea for further trace of U-boats as they come.

Secretary Daniels directed tonight that the brief report from the destroyer be made public. The destroyer herself with two survivors from the Baird, a 279 ton craft hailing from Wilmington, Del., was still hunting for the enemy. The announcement which naval officers said contained all the department knew about today's activities of the raiders follows:

"The navy department has received a despatch from a United States destroyer that at 9:30 o'clock this morning she interrupted an attack by an enemy submarine on the French Steamer Radioline about 65 miles off the Maryland coast. The destroyer also took on board two men from the Edward Baird, which was bombed and sinking. A later report was received stating that the Radioline had arrived at an Atlantic port."

Reports from survivors who were aboard the busses, also established the fact during the day that at least two submarines have been at work in American waters. They are the U-37 and the U-151 and a report to the Navy Department shows that one at least had stores to last her three months. The outstanding fact tonight was that the enemy was still taking toll of coast wise shipping and evading the patrols. Members of congress who conferred with Secretary Daniels today were convinced that everything possible was being done that could be done without lessening American efforts to crush the enemy in France.

The transport lines have been held safely against the lurking foe and troops have gone forward without delay. The raiders have created panic among coastwise shipping but they have done no military damage whatever. There were indications today that the enemy aviation service had joined in the U-boat hunt. No statement of the orders given could be obtained but it is understood a considerable number of army fliers have been mobilized near the coast to co-operate with the naval patrol squadrons.

Confidence in Navy.
While all the excitement of the raid went on about the naval districts and its echoes stirred the navy department, preparations for increased troop movements went steadily ahead in the war department. The army has increased confidence today with enemy craft known to have been lurking off the coast for many days in fruitless efforts to strike at the transports, in the ability of the navy to carry out its part of the job to the end.

WAR SUMMARY

News of Activities On Various Battle Fronts in Summarized Form By Associated Press.

From drives on wide fronts the German offensive in France has deteriorated into isolated attacks along the area between Soissons and Chateau Thierry and eastward on the Marne in the general direction of Rheims.

Altho in these attacks the enemy still is using large effective and great numbers of guns, he is being held almost everywhere from further progress and on various sectors compelled to assume the defensive against vicious blows delivered by the British, American and French troops.

The Americans on the sectors where they are alone or brigaded with allied troops everywhere are fighting with a spirit of abandon that places them rightly in the category of veterans. Near the Neuilly (Veuilly) wood which lies northwest of Chateau Thierry and at the point where the drive has brought the enemy nearest Paris the Americans have beaten off a strong German attack and on the Marne at Jaulgonne some six miles northeast of Chateau Thierry, fighting shoulder-to-shoulder with the French they have aided in forcing the first contingent of the enemy to cross the Marne again to seek refuge on the northern bank of the stream. In this last engagement the Germans suffered several casualties and also left 100 men prisoners in the hands of the defenders of the line.

Between the Aisne and Ourcq rivers the Germans have captured Pernant and to the south of that village the French have ceded a little terrain.

In the Ourcq valley they also took the town of Neuilly-la-Potrie, seven and a half miles northwest of Chateau Thierry in fighting during which the place changed hands several times.

In the region between the Oise and the Aisne the Germans have been unable to advance anywhere. The losses of the Germans near Pernant were extremely heavy owing to the stubborn defense of the French.

There still is only moderate activity along the line held by the British in Flanders and Picardy where patrol activities and bombarding continue. On the Aisne front the Germans are heavily bombarding British positions.

Full confidence in the outcome of the war again has been expressed by the supreme war council of the allies which has just gone over the entire situation resulting from the big German offensive altho it was stated that the allied nations may be still exposed to critical days.

The report of the council says that the aid of the American troops will make it impossible for the enemy to gain victory by wearing out the allied reserves before he has exhausted his own. Additional attacks on shipping by German submarines off the Atlantic coast have been reported. A majority of the persons aboard vessels sunk by the underwater craft have reached shore but sixteen from the Steamer Carolina, perished during a storm while in a motor boat of the vessel Sunday night.

SUPREME COURT CHIEF JUSTICE NAMED

(By Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 4.—Justice Warren Duncan of Marion will succeed to the chief justiceship of the Illinois supreme court when that body convenes this afternoon. He takes the place of Chief Justice Orin N. Carter of Chicago who has served the regular term of one year.

Justice Duncan assumes his new duties in accordance with the customs of the court.

mine off the New Jersey shore was announced today by the navy department. Undoubtedly it was dropped by one of the enemy U-boats. Possibly the raider was closely pursued and sought to lay a trap for her pursuer, or she might have hoped the bomb would prove to be in the path of a convoy flotilla. The official list of vessels sunk by the U-boats as given out tonight by the navy department included seven schooners and four steamers. The statement follows:

"The latest reports received by the navy department indicate that the following vessels have been sunk as a result of enemy submarine activity off this coast:

"Schooner Edna, bombed.

"Schooner Hattie Dunn, 436 tons, bombed.

"Schooner Haupaage, 3500 tons.

"Schooner Edward H. Cole, 1791 tons, bombed.

"Schooner Isabel B. Wiley, 776 tons, bombed.

"Schooner Jacob M. Haskell, 1778 tons, bombed.

"Steamship Winneconne, 1896 tons, torpedoed.

"Steamship Carolina, 5,030 tons.

"Schooner Edward R. Baird, Jr., 279 tons, bombed.

"Steamship Herbert L. Pratt, 7,200 tons, raised and towed to port.

"Steamship Texel."

CHARLES WARREN FAIRBANKS DIES AT INDIANA HOME

A Former Vice-President of the United States

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 4.—Charles Warren Fairbanks, former vice-president of the United States and former United States senator for Indiana, died at his home here at 8:55 o'clock tonight. Death was due to interstitial nephritis. All members of the former vice-president's family except Major Richard Fairbanks, who is in France, were at his bedside.

Born in a Log Cabin.
The distinction of birth in a log cabin, which illustrious Americans of an earlier day commonly had, was also that of former vice-President Fairbanks. It is probable that he was the last of American statesmen to have been born in one of these humble cabins.

The one where he was born on May 11, 1852, was at Unionville Center, O. It came dangerously near being the funeral pyre for the future statesman. When Mr. Fairbanks was a boy of four, his father built a new home, and the one room log cabin was used as a carpenter shop. One day while the workmen were at lunch Charles wandered into the shop and carelessly threw a bunch of shavings into the open fire-place. The cabin caught fire and when the boy realized his danger he was forced to scramble thru a window.

Mr. Fairbanks traced his ancestors to the days of Oliver Cromwell, who counted "Payerbanks" among his supporters. Jonathan Payerbanks, the first member of the family to come to America, landed at Boston in 1636. Mr. Fairbanks' father was Loriston Monroe Fairbanks, a wagon maker of Vermont, who emigrated to Union County, Ohio. His mother was a sister of the late William Henry Smith, once general manager of the Associated Press.

The Fairbanks home frequently was the hiding place of runaway slaves and no blackman ever was turned away from the door. Fairbanks was eight years old when Abraham Lincoln was elected president. Then followed the Civil War, the stirring scenes of which the future Vice-President followed with keen interest.

Enters College Young.
Fairbanks at 15, entered Ohio Wesleyan College at Delaware, Ohio, sharing an attic room with the son of another farmer, and the two cooked their own meals. Fairbanks did carpenter work to earn his first law books.

From Pittsburgh, Mr. Fairbanks went to Cleveland and completed his law course. In 1874 he married Miss Cornelia Cole, the culmination of a romance that began when both were members of the editorial staff of their college paper. To them were born five children, one daughter and four sons.

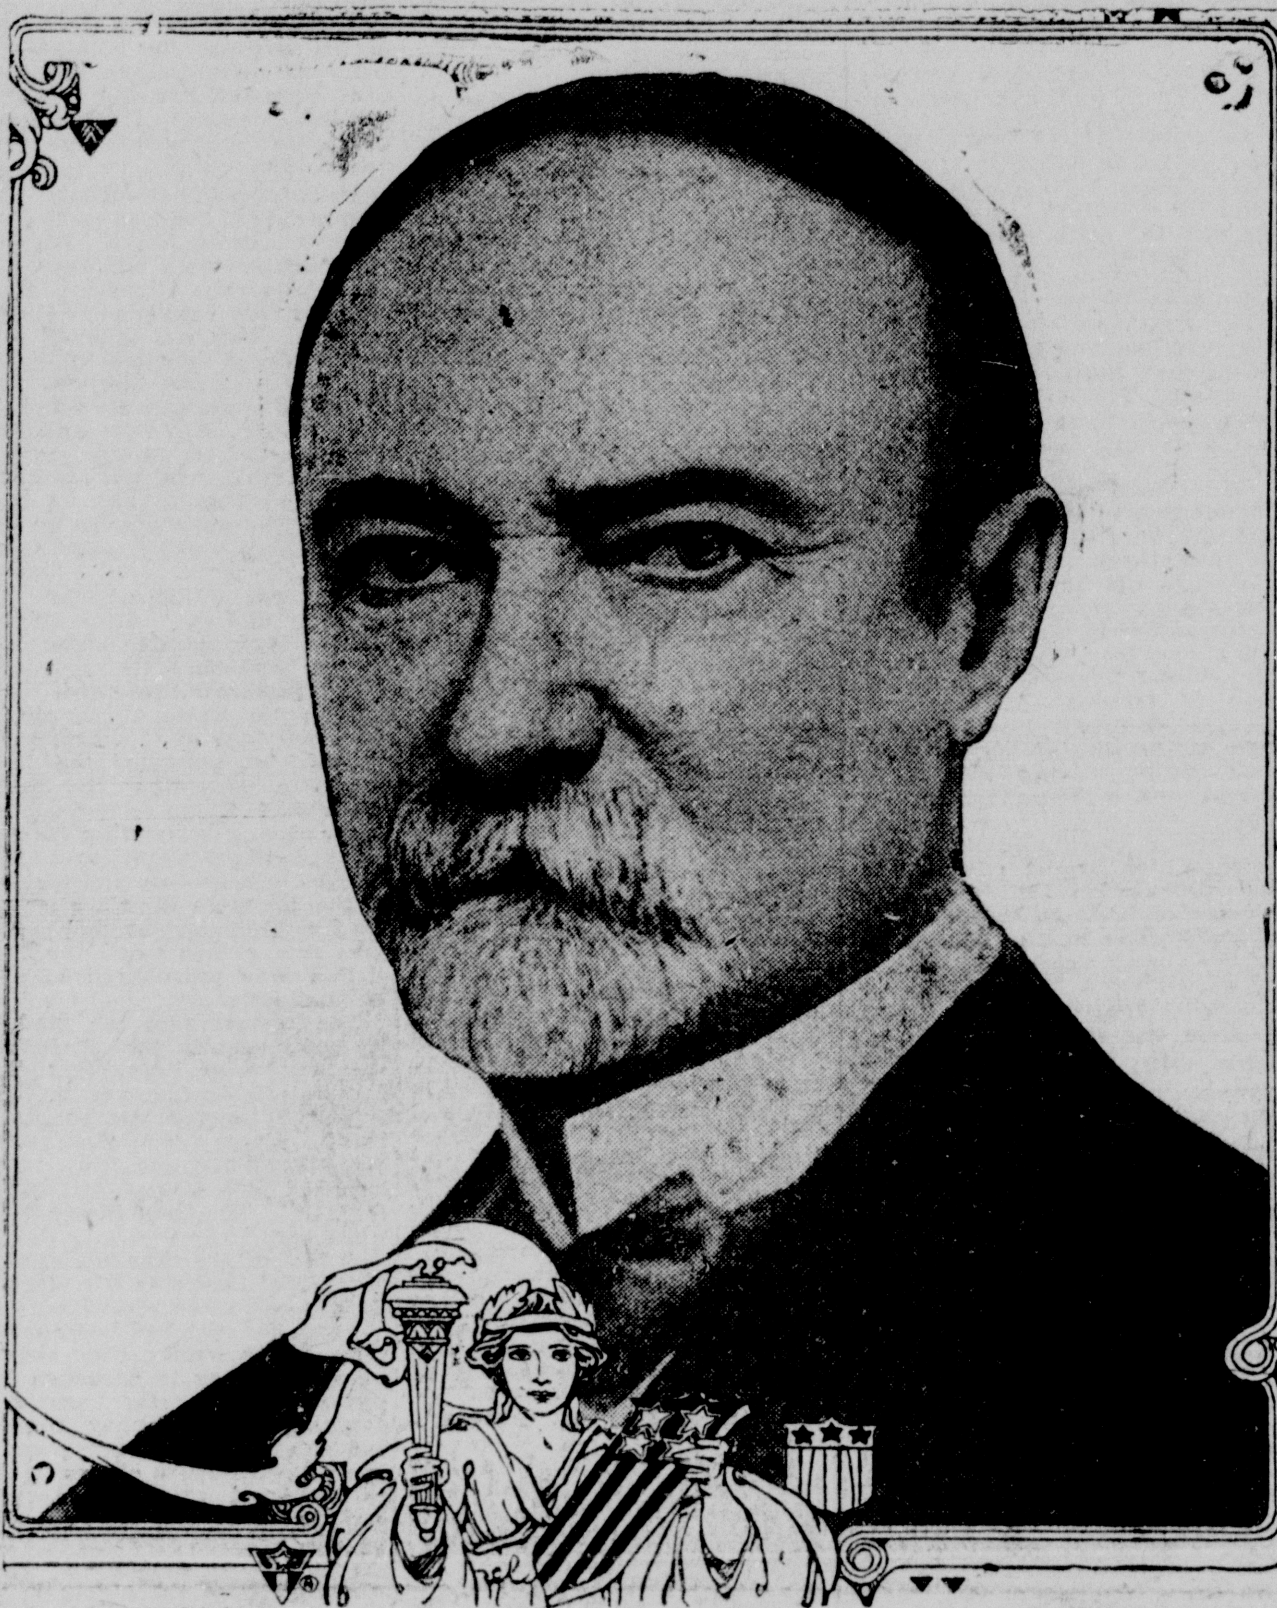

After marriage Mr. Fairbanks moved to Indianapolis and opened a law office. He took a deep interest in politics and assisted in local, state and national campaigns, managed Walter G. Greham's campaign for the Republican nomination for the Presidency in 1888 and later labored industriously for Benjamin Harrison's nomination.

It has been stated many times that Mr. Fairbanks did more to commit the Republican party in Indiana to the gold standard in 1896 than any other man and that he wrote the money plank in the national platform adopted at the St. Louis convention, over which he presided as temporary chairman. When William McKinley was nominated for the presidency Mr. Fairbanks toured the country in his interests.

In January, 1897 Mr. Fairbanks was elected to the United States senate. He took his seat on March 4 the day on which McKinley became president. He became a close adviser of the president in the trying times before and during the Spanish-American war.

Among Mr. Fairbanks' greatest services to his country were those performed while he was a member of the United States and British joint commission, which dealt with the Alaskan boundary, lake fishing and other questions. Mr. Fairbanks was recognized as one of the national leaders of the Republican party and as such was made chairman of the committee on resolutions at the Philadelphia national convention in 1900. He resigned from the senate March 4, 1905, having been elected Vice-President on the Republican ticket with Theodore Roosevelt.

While he was Vice-President, Mr. Fairbanks, in 1908 became a candidate for the nomination for president. He was defeated by Wm. H. Taft, and after his term as Vice-President ended, he went back to the practice of law.

Great Counter-Attack By Americans Repulses Huns Near Chateau-Thierry

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 4. A terse announcement is made in General Pershing's evening communique of the actions announced today by the French war office in which Americans by a brilliant counter-attack repulsed the Germans near Chateau-Thierry and French and American troops drove back an enemy force which had crossed the Marne farther south.

The communique says: "In the fighting northwest of Chateau-Thierry our troops broke up an attempt of the enemy to advance to the south thru Neuilly woods and by a counter-attack drove him back to the north of the woods. On the Marne front a German battalion which had crossed at Jaulgonne, was counter-attacked by French and American troops and forced to retreat to the right bank. It sustained severe losses in killed and prisoners."

"Patrolling was active in Picardy and Lorraine. "In the Woivre we shelled the enemy positions using gas."

Machine Gunners Aid.
With the French Army on the Marne, Monday, June 3.—By the Associated Press.

—American machine gunners only an hour or so after their arrival on the banks of the river Marne on the 31st of May took a most active part in the defense of Chateau-Thierry which then was menaced with imminent capture by the Germans.

Scarcely had the Americans alighted from their motor carriers when they were sent into Chateau-Thierry with a battalion of French colonial troops. The Americans immediately organized their defenses and by rapid action and excellent shooting caused the approaching enemy to hesitate.

The northern half of the town of Chateau-Thierry was finally captured by the Germans. The southern half of the town lying on the left bank of the river Marne, still is being firmly held by entente allied forces.

SUB SURVIVORS BRING HARROWING TALE OF THE SEA

Have Many Thrilling Stories Regarding Experiences

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, June 4.—Captain Thomassen of the Schooner Isabel B. Wiley landed here today by an American coastwise freighter with fifteen more survivors of three vessels sunk off the New Jersey coast by German submarines, told a thrilling tale of a dash he made toward shore after he had taken to his motorboat and received aboard eleven Americans held prisoner on the undersea craft. When the submarine left him there were pitching about in the sea near him three boats of the Steamer Winneconne, which had been just sunk. In these boats were survivors from the Winneconne and Captain Gilmore and the crew of the Edna which also had been sunk. Captain Thomassen, who had in his motorboat not only his own crew but some of the crew of the Schooner Haupaage and the mate of the Schooner Hattie Dunn, who had been transferred from the submarine, wished to take the three lifeboats in tow. Holding conference on the high seas the occupants of the four small craft decided that, with the three lifeboats in tow, Captain Thomassen with his men, and the survivors of the three vessels could not proceed more than 10 miles. As shore was 75 miles away, it was decided that he should make a dash for help.

While heading for the nearest land, Captain Thomassen was picked up by a coast liner which later transferred him and his men to another steamer. Failing to find the three boats of the Winneconne which had meanwhile been picked up and landed here last night the rescue ship headed for this port arriving here today. It was about 8 o'clock Sunday morning when Captain Thomassen bound from Princess Bay to Newport News, first sighted the submarine astern. He thought it was an American submarine chaser, but as it approached he made out that it was an enemy craft. When the submarine fired a six inch shell toward the Wiley cleaving the water 100 yards from his ship, Captain Thomassen called all hands on deck and lowered his motorboat. At that moment the Winneconne hove in sight and the submarine fired a shell across her bow, forcing the crew to take to the boats.

When both the Winneconne and Wiley had been sent to the bottom the submarine came alongside Thomassen's motor boat. After transferring 11 men to the motor boat and dividing 12 more prisoners among three small boats from the Winneconne the submarine hastened away.

Thirty Five Recovering.
Atlantic City, N. J., June 4.—Thirty five survivors of the New York and Porto Rico Liner Carolina, which was sunk by a German submarine Sunday evening, were recovering in hotels and at the soldiers and sailors' club here tonight after 40 hours in the battered boat from which they landed this afternoon. Twenty seven of them were passengers. The women were suffering from exhaustion and all had suffered from hunger and thirst but none was in a serious condition. When they landed the passengers were lifted bodily from their boat and carried to an emergency hospital. Some of the women and girls were tired in overalls and jumpers borrowed from members of the crew. All were bespattered with salt. One woman about thirty years old, fainted as a life guard lifted her from the yawl and ran to the emergency hospital on the beach. At that moment the notes of the Star Spangled Banner floated into the tent and the woman, half rising on her cot, cried hysterically: "We're safe—safe at last."

Then she sank again into unconsciousness.

Mrs. C. H. Westbrook of New York, who with a 13 year old daughter was among the rescued passengers paid high tribute to Lieutenant McLaren and the men of his crew. Altho severely able to sit up in bed she insisted on telling of the heroic conduct of the crew.

"We had just started for dinner," she said, "when the shell screamed a warning across the deck of the ship. I can't describe

BULLETINS

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Word reached the navy department tonight that German submarines had been pursued by a destroyer off the Maryland coast late today.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The Tank Steamer Herbert L. Pratt, sunk yesterday by a German submarine off the Delaware Capes, has been slated and is now being towed to harbor for repairs, the navy department announced tonight.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 4.—Aviation Cadet George O. Mills of Jersey City, N. J., was killed late today when his plane caught fire and fell 2,000 feet near Taylor Field.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, June 4.—Joseph John O'Malley, aged 26 of Albany, Missouri, was killed here today when his airplane fell into a tail spin. A companion whose name was not disclosed, escaped unhurt.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., June 4.—Civilian Instructor Stanley Clyde, aged 27 years old of Condoverport, Pa., was killed and Flying Cadet Edwin Chapman, 26 of Brookline, Mass., was badly injured today when the airplane in which they were flying crashed another machine about 200 feet above Rockwell Field, North Island and fell spinning to the ground.

HOUSTON, Texas, June 4.—Private John Sarnier of Philadelphia was killed and Lieutenant Elmer N. Hay, slightly injured today at Ellington Field when their airplane became unmanageable in the air and crashed to the ground.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 4.—Dr. David Roberts, for the murder of whose wife Grace Luck was found guilty on May 29 at Waukesha, Wis., was arrested tonight on charges of illicit relations committed here with his wife's slayer.

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., June 4.—The 375 motor men and street car conductors who went on strike for higher wages here today affecting street car traffic in eight nearby towns, tonight agreed to return to work following a conference with company officials. The strikers agreed to submit their differences to the United States war labor board.

ESCAPE FROM HUN PRISON CAMP TOLD

Henry Priessmann Arrives in Chicago After Experiences in Germany—Valuable Information Taken.

Chicago, June 4.—A graphic story of his capture by a German submarine when the Liner Arcadia was torpedoed last November and his later escape from a prison camp after he had killed two sentries and stolen plans of the harbor of Ostend and Zeebrugge was given by Henry Priessmann on his arrival in Chicago today to enlist as an ambulance driver for the Red Cross.

Priessmann was recently given an honorable discharge from the navy because of a wound he received when he dived from the deck of the submarine which attacked the Arcadia to rescue his brother. After ordering the six surviving sailors of the Arcadia below, he said, "the submarine was submerged and only all of the fifty civilians on her deck managed to reach a life boat. I was kept a prisoner on the craft without food or drink for sixty hours during which time the Germans tried to force me to give them information by winding wire about my body and tightening it. I was taken to Ostend as a prisoner and for 72 days I was held there. During this time I became acquainted with two English officers and four American soldiers who were taken in the first drive. On the twenty-second of February we made our escape in German uniforms. I stole some plans from one of the German officers who was sleeping after a carouse. Later I turned these papers which were the plans of the harbor of Ostend and Zeebrugge over to the naval authorities and eleven days later the great raid was made."

"One of the English officers had cut a hole thru the barb wire entanglements surrounding our camp and thru this we made our escape after killing two sentries. We made our way across Belgium and Holland and thence to England."

NELSON MORRIS TO BE TAKEN OVERSEAS

ROCKFORD, Ill., June 3.—Nelson Morris, millionaire packer of Chicago, has found his permanent fighting place in the division supply train it was announced today, the first organization in the division to be recruited to full strength for overseas service. He will drive one of the big trucks overland to an eastern point of embarkation. The start will be made this week.

CLASS ONE MEN IN ILLINOIS ARE NEARLY USED UP

Only 1,681 Will Remain After June Draft Calls

(By Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 4.—Class one men in Illinois practically will be used up to fill the June draft calls, reports received from every local board in the state indicated, according to an announcement of Adjutant General Dickson today.

When the 28,500 select men enter June 24th and the 4,294 others leave for special technical training June 15th, only 1,681 will remain in class one the figures show.

On June 1st there were 34,415 men in class one, including farmers in deferred classifications because of agriculture reasons. Only in rare instances, it was said have men been allowed to remain in this category because of the urgent need for men.

No instructions have been received by Adjutant General Dickson as to whether the new registrants of tomorrow will be ready for induction before men in class two, but the supposition is that they will be ready.

Quota assigned the local boards in the state to fill the June 24th call will be announced by Adjutant General Dickson tomorrow. They were sent out to the boards tonight.

General Crowder's Message
Washington, June 4.—Machinery for the registration tomorrow of nearly a million youths who have reached 21 years old since June 5 last is now completed and ready for operation. Provost-Marshal General Crowder today announced, addressing a message to the 1918 class of registrants.

General Crowder's message reads: "On the 5th of June, 1917, just one year ago tomorrow, occurred one of the most memorable events in the history of democratic institutions."

"On that day ten million self-governed young Americans marched quietly to the polls, and, in a voice that was heard around the world, registered their invincible determination to preserve for themselves and their posterity the blessings of the liberty with which they have been so richly endowed. "A year has passed, many of these men are now on the battlefields of France and on tomorrow the 5th of June that voice will have found its echo when one million more will rally to their support."

"The nation is engaged in a struggle for its existence. Our activities have been diverted from the normal peace time channels and the energy of those who remain at home is being directed, more closely every day towards the accomplishment of the things upon which our armies must depend and without which success is impossible. Every American must do his duty in this great crisis even tho he remains at home. Those who are of such an age and condition in life that they may, without detriment to the economic support of the army actively imposed themselves against our enemy on the European battlefields are indeed privileged. Most of them will be so classified and I have no hesitancy in predicting that their services will win for them the undying affection of a proud and grateful nation."

It now looks like the war is hardly "three thousand miles away."

The Germans have pulled off a spectacular stunt in their blow on the Jersey coast, in an endeavor to break the morale of this country.

Paris has been "doomed" many times and while the crisis on the Marne is serious, we must not look upon the gloomy side. The resources of the allies and of America are such that the enemy will ultimately be defeated.

Where hundreds of thousands of men are engaged along a battle front seventy five miles long, where communication with the front is difficult, reliable or prompt information must be slow.

Judge Clyde E. Stone, Republican, defeated Judge Charles Craig, Democrat, in the Fifth supreme district, by over two thousand.

This state is on the war-path regarding unemployed citizens. They must all be engaged in active, useful labor under the definition of the latter clause allows room for wrangling so that it is understood that a municipality is to be approved by national authorities and submitted for passage to the various councils.

THE STUDY OF MEDICINE.
The College of Medicine of the University of Illinois announces that as a war emergency it will begin June 3, 1918, to operate a continuous session on the quad semester system for the benefit of the students who are entering or are in the enlisted medical reserve corps. Under this system the calendar year is divided into three terms of four months each, instead of four terms of three months each, as under the trimester or quarter system, or into two terms as under the usual semester system.

Upon the completion of four school years of eight months each (32 months) of satisfactory work, the student in the medical reserve corps will have fulfilled the requirements for the degree of doctor of medicine.

The college term will begin about June 1, October 1 and February 1.

BRINGING THE WAR TO AMERICA.
There are several good facts in connection with the coming of the submarines to the near Atlantic coast. There are certain people in America who have all along expressed their willingness to fight as soon as Germany brought the war to this side of the water, but could not see no good reason for sending soldiers to carry on a fight three thousand miles away. These objectors now have their answer.

Then there is another good point in the fact that the lessons of the submarine attacks will be well worth while for another set of Americans who have continued to minimize the seriousness of the struggle in which the U. S. is engaged. There are some optimistic souls who have persisted in the view that the war will be over in a few months' time and that, therefore, such extensive war preparations as this country is now making are causing unnecessary expense, and in fact are misdirected.

The seriousness of the submarine menace does not need to be over-estimated to impress upon every American the fact that the war is at the very doors of the U. S.—that this country is engaged in a hand to hand struggle with a great military nation, one which has been building and organizing for decades for just such a struggle. The U. S. is warring with no mean enemy and it is to take the best thought and strength of a united people to cope with such a foe in a victorious way.

WHY WAR FOR DISASTER?

A well known citizen of Jacksonville said some time ago that he sometimes felt that it would take a great disaster to thoroughly awaken the people of Jacksonville along certain lines. To those who have considered the water supply question in its various relationships, it is very apparent that a few months ago when Morgan lake was dry and no water was available from Mauvaisterre creek, that the city was near enough to disaster to impress the absolute need of arranging for some source of supply to be depended upon in time of drought.

The state institutions, public schools, local colleges were all in a very bad way at that time. The lack of water brought the city very close to a disease epidemic. Had a great fire broken out there would have been no means of quenching the flames. True, just at the time when the limit seemed to have been reached, rains came and the situation was saved. But to go on temporizing with the water supply situation is in reality tempting providence.

The same situation which menaced the city such a short time ago may come to Jacksonville again within the next few months. Certainly it behooves every man and woman in Jacksonville to look at this question in a broad-minded way and to work for their own protection and the best interests of the city by favoring the proposition to issue $75,000 in bonds for water improvement.

It is not a question as to whether the water believed originally in the river source of supply or had the most faith in the north side wells. It is not a question of who happens to constitute the city council. The proposal to build an impounding reservoir was reached after the most deliberate and careful consideration by well known citizens of Jacksonville, co-operating with the city council. The ordinance as passed makes ample provision so that the money raised from the bonds can be used for no other purpose than the construction of the proposed reservoir. The earnings from the water plant cannot be used for any other purpose than the extension of the water department, and the refunding of the bonds is so arranged that with a very small tax the money will be wholly refunded in twenty years.

Whatever you do, consider the water problem on its merits with unprejudiced mind and when you vote at the election Tuesday, June 18, let the vote register your best judgment upon the question before the people—not your prejudice or your opinion hastily formed.

IVEN WOOD WELL KNOWN RESIDENT PASSES ON

Resident of Morgan County for 78 Years Died at Midnight Tuesday—Was Large Land Owner.

Iven Wood, pioneer resident of Morgan County, died at his home near Pisgah at midnight Tuesday at the age of 78 years. Mr. Wood suffered injuries in an accident a number of years ago. Since that time he has not been in his former robust health and for several weeks he has been growing gradually weaker until the final dissolution came.

It is given to but few to live in the same residence for such a long period of years. Mr. Wood died in the same house in which he was born and with the exception of a few years had always resided there.

December 24, 1862 Mr. Wood was united in marriage to Miss Mary Camm. To this union eight children were born, three preceding him in death. He is survived by his widow and the following children: Charles, Wood, Pisgah; Mrs. Minnie C. Wood, Pisgah; Mrs. Elizabeth Hardwick, Meritt; Arthur Wood, Indio, California and Homer Wood residing at home. He also leaves two brothers R. R. and George Wood and one sister, Mrs. Julia Beekman.

Mr. Wood was a member of Union Baptist church at Pisgah and for forty years was a deacon in the church. He was always ready to aid any worthy cause and was a force for good in the community in which he lived. Thru the long years of his life Mr. Wood followed the occupation of farming. He was extremely successful in his calling and at the time of his death his real estate holdings comprised more than a thousand acres of land.

Funeral services will be held from Union Baptist church, Friday morning at 10 o'clock in charge of Dr. S. M. Boyer of Cincinnati, Ohio, a life long friend of the family assisted by the Rev. F. M. Crabtree.

CLASS DAY EXERCISES.

The class day exercises at Illinois Woman's College were unique and original. The theme was "Joseph, Seer of Visions; Dreamer of Dreams."

Assembled on the campus a good sized audience witnessed and fully enjoyed the program. First came the vision of 25 years ago when the imagination saw:

Higher Education
Fine Arts
A deeper spiritual sense
A gymnasium.

Then with earnest effort came the endowment making possible the things so earnestly coveted. The means by which the anticipation had been made possible were:

Determination
Perseverance

TAKES NEW POSITION
Arthur Henderson has resigned his position as clerk at the V. L. Alexander Mercantile company and taken a position as road salesman with the North-Whapleigh Hardware company of St. Louis. He leaves at once to assume his duties with the Missouri concern and will have the best wishes of his many friends here for success in his new position. Prior to Mr. Henderson's employment with Mr. Alexander he was in the employ of the Gay Hardware company for a period of fifteen or sixteen years. He thoroughly understands the hardware business and should be a valuable addition to the Shapleigh force.

KEEP GOING—AND LOOK THE KAISER TO A FINISH

"Seven boats sunk right in our own harbors. This was the news that buzzed around town yesterday when the press received word of a submarine activity off the American coast. Some of us doubted the rumor and said as much. We were right; the enemy submarines did their work on the high seas fifty to one hundred and fifty miles from the New Jersey coast, and not within our own harbors. Alho the raiders accomplished nothing of military importance, they accomplished that for which the German government sent them across. They came to terrorize the American people, and they did it. They frightened us so badly that for a time we lost confidence in our splendid coast defense and gave the "subs" credit for things they could not possibly do.

The Kaiser relied upon us to help him in this way. One of his objects in sending the submarines was to throw such a fright into our people that they would demand the return of our overseas fleet to protect our own coasts. The fact is, that the unerring marksmanship of American bluejackets in the war zone is gradually reducing the submarine menace. The enemy knows this; his attack on our coastwise shipping is his way of telling us that his policy of frightfulness on the seas has failed.

Now the question is, why do not the American people think of these things before they fly into a panic? Why is it necessary for the navy department to assure us that our coast defense is adequate, even after a hostile vessel had come within range of our coast artillery? Ah, because we lost our heads. We ought to remember that terrorism is as much a German weapon as its poison gas and liquid fire. Its effectiveness, however, depends, not upon German skill, but upon our ability to rest its inroads on our individual morale. We may be sure that every time we give way to a panic, Berlin laughs in its sleeve. If we cannot keep cool in the presence of slight misfortune, what would we do if put to the terrible tests of morale which our Allies have so gallantly stood?

No doubt there are crises to come in which the nation will need all the power of resistance it is now wasting in worry over the "dies" of the enemy. Berlin has two enemy allies who are causing all the trouble. Their names are False Rumor and Exaggeration. They have an ingenious knack of multiplying themselves everywhere and of appearing in all sorts of innocent disguises. But in spite of their cunning, we have the means at hand to protect ourselves against these gentlemen.

In the first place, let's read ALL the way. Don't just glance over the headlines and snatch a word here and there. Such hasty reading may give you a false impression, and thus do the country more harm than would a dozen German shells. Take time to read the truth. And then, if you tell others what you read, be sure to tell the truth. Do not garble your statements, or leave your hearer in doubt as to the import of your news. Remember that others may be more easily frightened than you are, and also that they, too have tongues, which may have a tendency to be loose at both ends. General Pershing's communique may not have much literary value; but it tells the truth; and that's what we're after. Mr. Creel of the department of public information is on to this job. He is not going to poison the people's mind.

I am sure there is no loyal American citizen anywhere who would knowingly give aid to the enemy; yet every time we lose our heads and help to spread a false rumor, or become excited and exaggerate some bit of war news, we are doing that very thing. Let's keep cool during the hot weather—and lick the Kaiser to a finish.

Ernest C. Rutherford.

COMMENCEMENT HELD AT SCHOOL FOR BLIND

Address to Graduating Class by A. L. Bowen Superintendent of Charities—Program One of Great Interest—Diplomas Presented by Col. F. D. Whipp, Secretary of the Board.

That the war will result in the betterment of mankind and improvement of social welfare was the opinion expressed by A. L. Bowen superintendent of Charities of Illinois in an address to the graduating class of the Illinois School for the Blind Tuesday afternoon.

The subject of Mr. Bowen's address was "The War and the Social Welfare." During the course of his address he pointed out many valuable lessons that had come thru the war and said that people had come to a keener realization of social problems than ever before.

An interesting program had been prepared and was carried out before a large audience. The program opened with an organ prelude, "March of the Legion," given an admirable rendition by George Gerlach. This was followed by a well rendered selection by the orchestra, "A Garden Matinee."

The invocation was asked by the Rev. W. R. Leslie and then Miss Marguerite Smith gave a piano number, "Du bist die Ruh," playing with much skill. A vocal duet was admirably given by Jennie Pastuszak and Frank Thompson.

This was followed by Mr. Bowen's address. Miss Mildred Bruner then gave a piano solo, "Second Nocturne."

Diplomas Presented.
Then Col. Frank D. Whipp, fiscal supervisor of the state board of charities presented the diplomas. In presenting the parchments Col. Whipp reviewed briefly, but in an interesting manner, the growth of education in past quarter of a century and especially the progress in education for the blind. The senior chorus then gave two numbers and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. W. R. Leslie.

The members of the graduating class are: Mildred R. Bruner, East St. Louis; Frank E. McDuffee, Fairfield; Clarence V. Richardson, Winnetka; Marguerite A. Smith, Alton. The class colors are Red, White and Blue. Class motto, "With Liberty and Justice for All." The class flower is the white rose.

A lot of the thoughts expressed by Mr. Bowen in his excellent address are given herewith.

After the war had been in progress for a short time and we were beginning to accustom ourselves to vast figures, tremendous expenditures of money and life and awful waste of property, many regrets were expressed that so much was going to destruction when it was so urgently needed for constructive purposes in building up human happiness. Those who had been sacrificing in the cause of social betterment, better living conditions and happier existence were ready to give up in despair.

But the war proceeded and we began to see social results from this tremendous expenditure of life and money. This widespread destruction of property and human happiness, social results that had been longed for by so many for so many years. Strange as it might seem, out of this fiery world disaster was emerging the signs of a better existence when peace returns.

Reviews Changes Brought About
In the few minutes at my disposal this afternoon, I want to review briefly the changes which have already come about or are about to come about affecting social welfare of our people as a result of our participation in this war and of our huge expenditures to carry the fight to victory.

I will begin in the field of public charity. What many of us have tried in vain to impress upon the public mind for years is now almost accepted as a fact; namely, that poverty and distress, insanity and feeble-mindedness, epilepsy and other forms of misfortune have been in large part the results of social and industrial conditions which we could remedy, if we only would.

The elimination of poverty, through a living wage scale and sufficiency of employment, thru industrial and social justice will relieve our nation of countless ills that attend its presence.

Crime Associate of Poverty.
Crime is the associate of poverty. Whether cause or effect of poverty is immaterial; crime is so closely related to poverty that we can not separate them. The indications are strong that the removal of poverty will mean the elimination of vast quantities of crime.

The war has brought into being many organizations whose work will not end with the declaration of peace. Social welfare will derive a benefit from the impetus that these organizations have gained with the public.

The war has taught us that healthy brains are as necessary to fighting men as healthy physical organs. The value of physical health has never been so well understood. The value of mental health was not understood at all or even thought about until the army officers began to cast aside the youth in whom they saw the latent signs of mental disease or inferiority.

Angle of Vision Widened.
Thus the education and training of the medical man, the community and school nurse and social worker will be vitally affected and changed by the lessons of this war, for there will be a task quite different than that which we had conceived for them before the angle of our vision was widened by the events of the last four years.

Of the suppression of vice and liquor I need not speak at length. We scarcely realize how widespread and how radical it has been. Sexual vices have long maintained themselves as on the false theory that they are necessary evils. For a few years preceding the war the public had begun to question this fallacy. When the army and navy made their demands for healthy men, the spectre of sex immorality as the leading cause of physical decay rose up in our youth and filled the skies like the evil genie that leaped from Aladdin's lamp.

The death of King Alcohol will save the American people enough in a few years to pay the whole money cost of the war, while the decrease in insanity, feeble-mindedness, epilepsy, poverty, crime and disease that can be charged to alcohol without fear of the bloody venture. But better than all else, with these evils gone, our higher and better conceptions of manhood and womanhood will resume their places as the governing factor in shaping our attitude towards our fellowmen and their aspirations.

A Revival of Ideals.

The greatest good this war will bring to us will be the revival of our ideals, the return of our early precepts of our duty towards each other and towards our country as a whole.

Such revival means social progress, social welfare, social happiness, social life worth living; it means health and strength, mental and physical; it means personal hygiene and social hygiene; it means clean cities, better governed cities; it means more efficient government, less corruption in public places, more sincere devotion towards the public weal on the part of public officials, a stricter account of their stewardship to the voters; it means liberality of money for social needs, liberality of view towards the unfortunate and the unhappy; it means better babyhood, stronger youth, truer men; a more prosperous industrial, commercial and professional life.

If this war brings these things to us, as it most certainly is bringing them, then its cost, in money, its cost in life, its cost in destruction will not have been in vain. It will have made the world a safe place for democracy. It will have made the world socially fit and congenial for those who must live in it and work out the destiny of the race.

Professor Larson, an expert organist from Chicago, will play the pipe organ or orchestra for the Marguerite Clark pictures at Scott's Theatre, Monday and Tuesday.

WITH THE COLORS

George Coe in Fine Spirits.

The following letter was received by Mrs. E. M. Coe from her son, George Coe, who is now with the Pennsylvania artillery somewhere in France. The letter was written before he sailed and was left unsealed in the hands of the censor to be mailed as soon as the ship on which he embarked reached the other side. The young man indicates in his letter that he is in excellent health and greatly enjoying army life.

Friday p. m.

Dear Mother:
This will be rather a strange letter, I imagine, as I don't know just what to say. This is almost my last night in the U. S. Everyone was asked to write home; if the letter is sealed it waits until the boat lands safely on the other side and then it is sent, so you probably won't receive this for maybe three weeks. If the letter is unsealed it is censored and mailed at once, but believe this is better as it practically answers for a cablegram. By coming north you know I am getting ready to sail, so why send word now? Now that the time has come to go I am really glad I am going. It will be quite an experience. Lots of soldiers have yet to prepare to go and soon a lot of them will be "over." My regret is I couldn't get home before I left. I am not the only one that failed to get a furlough but of course lots did. It was absolutely impossible for me to get away. I just seemed to be unfortunate in that respect.

As this came we got our final equipment, inspection, etc., and are preparing to leave at once for the boat at the point of embarkation. I am fine, absolutely fine, and am enjoying life and work. Everything is lovely. Therefore do not worry about me one minute! I will write as often as I can but the mail will probably be irregular. You write as often as you can too, because I will always be anxious to receive your letters. So please write as often as possible. I will try to give you my address as soon as possible. As near as I can tell I think mail addressed to me to 108th field artillery, Battery B, care of New York Postmaster, A. E. F., or overseas, will follow me. You might try it anyway.

I had a good time in New York

City the am sorry I missed Uncle Charles. I had a good room with bath, fine dinner and saw a good show, then back. Am glad I got to see the city a little. I don't know of much else I can write at this time.

Please do not work hard and keep well. I will write just as often as I can and do not worry. Hope this reaches you safely and finds you well. Remember me to all. Have received your letters and papers and was glad to get them, also stamps.

Your loving son,
George.

♦ CONSERVATORY NOTES. ♦

A recital of most unusual interest was given at the Conservatory last Saturday afternoon, June 1st. Miss Inez Pires, who became a member of the faculty at the beginning of this year, gave a program showing the work done by her young students in the Dunning System of Improved Music Study. The children belonging to her class, none of whom has had more than ten months work in the course, and all of whom are young, performed the various tasks allotted to them with remarkable sureness as well as evident enthusiasm. The discriminating audience gathered to hear them were most enthusiastic over the rapid progress made by the children, and expressed their pleasure in continued applause. It was indeed a surprise to note the accuracy of performance, the quick sense of pitch and rhythm, and the comprehension of the ethical matters that usually take much longer to learn. The pro-by the illuminating remarks made by Miss Pires, who made clear to her listeners the great difference between this Dunning System and the old-fashioned method of playing instruction. It is apparent at once that the children find real pleasure in learning even the dry technical and theoretical part of musical science, the various games and fascinating pieces of mechanism used in their work taking away the usual disagreeable laboriousness and making the whole process of musical education more natural and playful. The chief advantages of this system over the old are: early ear-training, quick comprehension of musical notation, board, of keys and intervals, and rapidly acquired ability to transpose. All of these things were clearly illustrated by the members of the class during the afternoon, and everyone who attended went away convinced of the superiority of this ingenious system as well as of Miss Pires' success in imparting it to the children.

register. County Clerk Bourns and his assistants will be present as will members of the local board and their office assistants. In addition to the usual force of assistants the adjutant general has designated Judge Edward L. Brockhouse as an additional member of the registration board and he will be present today to give any necessary legal assistance.

The government has depended entirely upon newspapers for the notification of eligible men who are required to register and notices in the paper are accounted as sufficient. The law provides that all young men who have reached the age of twenty-one during the period, whether or not citizens of the U. S., shall register. The law provides a penalty for failure to register and those who do not carry out the conditions of the law are subject to imprisonment for a term of not exceeding one year. Suggestions have been made as follows to all those who today are to answer the questions on the registration cards. The questions to be answered will be asked in order given below and it will facilitate if registrants have their answers in mind.

1. Name in full. Age in years.
This means all your names spelled out in full. Disregard additional months or days.
2. Home address.
This means the place where you permanently reside, not the place where you work. Be prepared to give the address in this way: "232 Main Street, Chicago, Cook County, Illinois;" or "R. F. D. No. 2, Jonesville, Ohio."
3. Date of birth.
To be required to register you must have been born in 1896, in a month and a day subsequent to June 5, or in 1897 in a month and on a day thereafter prior to the date set for registration.
4. Where were you born?
First name the city or town, then the State, then the nation.

the street, town, county, and State, or R. F. D. number, post office county and State where you work.

9. Name and address nearest relative.

If you are married and your wife is living, her name should be stated. If you are single and your wife is dead, you should state the name of your nearest relative. In stating the address give the number and name of the street first, then city or town, then county and State; or R. F. D. number first, then post office then county and State.

10. Race—White, Negro, Indian or Oriental.

No explanation necessary.

NOTICE TO LOAFERS

Porto Rico, as above defined and any native of Porto Rico who was temporarily absent from the Island on April 11, 1899, and has since returned, and is not a citizen of any foreign country, is held to be a citizen of the United States provided he did not elect to retain his political status by making declaration under any of his decision to do so within six months after March 2, 1917. If you were born abroad you are still a citizen of the United States if your father was a citizen of the United States at the time you were born, unless you have expatriated yourself.

(2) You are a naturalized citizen if you have completed your naturalization, that is, if you have "taken final papers". But you are not a citizen if you have only declared your intention to become a citizen (that is, if you have only "taken out first papers"); in the latter case you are only a declarant.

You are also a naturalized citizen if, although born, your father or surviving parent once became fully naturalized while you were under 21, to age and if you were in the United States at the time you attained the age of 21.

(3) You are a declarant if, although a citizen or subject of some other country, you are declared before a naturalization court your intention to become a citizen of the United States. Report from the clerk of the court of the certified copy of such declaration is often called "taking out first papers."

(4) An Indian is a citizen if he or his father or mother, prior to his birth or before he attained the age of 21, was allotted prior to May 9, 1906. (2) if he was allotted subsequent to May 9, 1906, and received a patent to his land; (3) if he was residing in the old Indian Territory at March 3, 1901; (4) if he lives separate and apart from his tribe.

EDUCATORS JOINED IN AFTERNOON PROGRAM

Representatives of Various Educational Interests Took Part In Woman's College Anniversary Exercises.

One of the most important events of the anniversary exercises at Illinois Woman's college was the academic program given Tuesday afternoon at Music Hall in which many prominent educators took part. Dr. A. W. Harris of New York, secretary of the general board of education of the church, presided, after he had been presented by Dr. T. J. Pitner. The invocation was by Bishop Nicholson.

Dr. Pitner then said: We are assembled here today to honor Dr. Harker and his estimable wife and tender the visitors a hearty welcome and for presiding officer today I present Dr. Harris, former president of Northwestern University and now secretary of the educational work of the Methodist Episcopal church as chairman of the day.

The gentleman performed the duties of his position most admirably and in introducing the various speakers being interspersed with wit, pathos and eloquence and all in keeping with the spirit of the occasion. Of his remarks and the others a short outline is given.

I am indeed glad to be here today. It is a great thing to be president of a college 25 years. Preachers and the president of the United States don't serve that long nor does a college president last so long unless he is right tough. Generations don't understand each other. Young people think the old always were old and the old think the young very frivolous. They should never quarrel and be mutually helpful. I take Rabeck, representing the University of Illinois.

OF GREETINGS
The gentleman said: I take great pleasure in being here today. The great University of Illinois takes pride in progress of education. It is an institution that belongs to the president of Illinois and I represent the president today. I was once a college president but I have not been for some time. Dr. Harker needs no reforming. He gained a good start and long may he live. It is a privilege to be here today. The Woman's College. A college career is like a voyage of discovery. The pioneers of this land sought to

STOP COUGHING

The simplest and best way to stop coughs, is to take Foley's Honey and Tar

You get the curative influence of the pine balsam together with the mollifying effect of the honey, and other healing ingredients. It leaves a soothing coating on the inflamed tickling throat, soothes the inflamed membrane and soothes the inflamed membrane and soothes the inflamed membrane.

R. F. Hall, M.D., writes: "One bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar stopped a troublesome bronchial cough and irritation that had bothered me for fifteen years. Your dealer sells it. Try it."

find not only homes for themselves but for schoolhouses, churches and educational institutions. Wisely they laid the foundations deep in faith and love and a grand fruit came as the result of their endeavor. In this great valley filled with inspiration in the work of this college. Dr. Holgate, president of Northwestern, came next. I am glad to bear the greetings of the Northwestern community. Dr. Harker today is a man much beloved wherever he is known which is far and wide. He has done large things and the shadows of life. Generally the life of a college president is short and full of misery. In Ohio a man who had been president of one of the 42 colleges of that state said he had been in office longest of any 42 years. The fine buildings are a great credit coming from so small a beginning. The structures and endowment and the monument to his energy and ability. His greatest work has been the building of himself and wife into the lives of the young ladies.

J. A. Hanna of the department of education in Illinois came for Mr. Harker. He was unable to be present. Dr. Harker has had a unique experience. He has been a school pupil, a teacher, county superintendent, principal and college president. I do not like a man who forgets he was once a student. Dr. Harker has finely served the spirit of youth. I met him years ago and have never forgotten the impression he made on me. The college and the students owe him a great debt of gratitude for what he has accomplished.

FROM THE FACULTY
Miss Neville responded for the faculty. A fairy tale says a drab little woman, once among many great men and I feel somewhat like her. I tender our illustrious visitors the greetings of the faculty of the Woman's college. The 25 years of Dr. Harker's presidency do not seem strange to me. I have been here a long while myself and have come to regard the college as a consistent whole. I don't think of it as a collection of parts. I have known Dr. Harker and I wonder how he measures up to the ideal of a college president. His hour class, not by a sun dial unless it might be located on the top of some mountain; not by a prosaic watch, so he must tell the secret. We count history by deeds and not by years and reckoned by that his life has certainly been long. We of the faculty to whom he is so dear and helpful bring with others our congratulations and best wishes.

Dr. Harrop, head of Albion college. This is truly an occasion of victory; not of a single individual but of great things. Nor will Dr. Harker be content with the past but will ever seek with greater things in the future. He knows the true spirit in which to labor and his achievements are grand.

Dr. Shawkes, superintendent of education in West Virginia. I am truly glad to be here though it is somewhat unexpected on the part of Dr. Harrop and myself and hence we come without the wedding garment. (The two gentlemen did not have the cap and gown, having left them at home.) I am from West Virginia. You may remember that the old mother state of Virginia tried to secede from the union and failed as did a number of other states that ever succeeded in seceding. It certainly is a good college that can keep a president 25 years. The education institutions are of course the life of the state and I bring to Dr. Harker today the greetings of the educational interests of my far away state.

Miss Lilly Dimmitt: "I bring the greetings of Morning Side College and congratulate you on the wonderful achievements of Dr. Harker, who has so grandly built his life into that of the college. He has done so much for what he has accomplished and still his greatest vision for the future may be fully realized."

ILLINOIS COLLEGE APPRECIATION

Dr. C. H. Ramm-Kamp: I have an all-time favorite speaker for I live here and know Dr. Harker and his work intimately. When he says he is going to do this he does it. I like to read his announcements for when he lays out a piece of work he accomplishes it. I don't forget too that he is an alumnus of Illinois college and was once a member of our faculty. He takes a real interest in the welfare of his students. Once when he was a member of our faculty the dormitory was cold. The boys complained to the president. Dr. Harker didn't come but when they went to "Shorty" Harker the place was warm. I know him as a rival and your opinion of a rival is a good test of his worth. Our rivalry is always friendly. He has done many things for me for which I am grateful. I am glad to regard him as a friend for we are both laboring for the same great need, the education of the rising generation. We are both for endowment and both have accomplished something in that line. I now take pleasure in reading the formal resolution adopted by the faculty of Illinois college to Dr. Harker, which breathes a spirit of friendship, admiration and fraternal esteem and appreciation.

Dr. Zaring, editor of the Northwestern Christian Advocate. I am always glad to greet Dr. Harker in my office and lay aside all else and devote myself to him. He is wrapped up in his work and has done great things. Ex-Gov. Richard Yates: shall not make a speech but shall say I am glad to be here. I spent the first twenty years of my life just as the way and have many pleasant memories of the past. I greet the worthy head of this college. It was from this institution that I took one who listened to my tale of esteem and agreed to treat with me the path of life. Here cluster many sacred and tender memories and I shall ever revere the Woman's College most tenderly.

Dr. Theodore Kemp, President of Wesleyan University of Bloomington. Twenty years ago was pastor of church in this city and learned to know and esteem Dr. Harker. I told him of many friends who would aid his work and now that I am in the same work I find those friends stick to him. I admire his zeal and industry and congratulate him cordially.

Pres. Lesman of Garret Biblical Institute. I regard with profound respect and admiration the work of Dr. Harker. Mine is an institution where preachers are made but here it is different but no less important. I respect the man who can work successfully 25 years and pray that he may live for many more years of usefulness.

The chair offered some complimentary words and the program ended with "America."

I. W. C. ALUMNI HELD BUSINESS SESSION

Interesting Program Followed By Election of Officers—Tokens of Good Will for President and Mrs. Harker.

The annual meeting of I. W. C. alumnae association took place in social hall with the president, Mrs. William C. Lambert, presiding. The new graduates filled in and took their seats and were presented to the association by Mrs. Mary Johnston, class officer. They were welcomed by Miss Letta Irvin to the ranks of the seniors and Miss Marceline Armstrong responded for the class. She said: when they entered four years ago and saw the grave and reverend seniors with their caps and gowns it seemed a height they never would attain but they had attained it and would try to prove worthy of the honor conferred on them today.

The annals were read by Mrs. E. C. Lambert and were indeed interesting. She mentioned the names of those who had gone to the great beyond during the past year, the oldest being Mrs. Mary Levering of the class of 1893; also Mrs. Brook of 1894 and several others. Some too had entered the state of matrimony and some had achieved greatness in various ways. She spoke most tenderly of Mrs. Alice McDougall, Griffith of Springfield, mother of Mrs. T. J. Pitner, whose presence was ever a benediction. Mrs. Harker was ever a part of the association and here on the present occasion.

Mrs. Fanny DeMotte Archibald favored the class with a piano solo and as an encore rendered a composition written by William Westminister, a former teacher of music in the city, had composed and given her. It was received with hearty applause. Mrs. Archibald came to the college with her father, the late Prof. W. H. DeMotte, when a little girl and has ever treasured the state of matrimony. The treasurer's report showed the association to be in a good condition financially.

Mrs. Hartman sang a beautiful song composed many years ago by Christine Rosset and set to music by a modern composer and responded to an encore.

Messrs. Boklin, Strang, Rhea, Frailey, Winterbottom, Carriel and Bradenberger, were made life members, each paying $5. Election resulted as follows: President—Miss Jeanette Powell. First vice president—Miss Millicent Rowe. Second vice president—Miss Elizabeth B. Martin.

Secretary—Miss Helen B. Pilon. Corresponding secretary—Miss Della Dimmitt. Directors—Mrs. Effie Black Baxter, Miss Agnes Paxton, Mrs. Nellie Reaugh Larson, Mrs. William A. Fay. A cordial letter from Mrs. John N. Wood, D. C. Federalist of Florida, was read and the corresponding secretary was instructed to send a response. President Harker and members of the board of trustees were then invited to the meeting by the alumnae association. Mrs. W. A. Fay presided and they were then briefly and indicated that the president and his wife had been summoned because of the special feature of the program. Then Mrs. Joseph Winterbottom in well chosen words presented Dr. Harker with a handsome traveling bag. Miss Millicent Rowe, also speaking for the alumnae, presented to President and Mrs. Harker a very handsome silver service. Miss Rowe was very happy in her choice of sentiments and as President Harker said: "The coming of the alumnae there was no better or greater man in all the U. S. or in the land of the living, that the silver service represented the love and respect in which the members of the alumnae association held both him and Mrs. Harker."

D. A. R. PLAN FOR COMMUNITY SING

Patriotic Musical Program Will be Given as Flag Day Observance—Public is Cordially Invited.

(Rev. James Caldwell Chapter D. A. R. is preparing for a community sing to be given as a Flag day observance this year. Flag day is Friday, June 14, and the program as outlined will take place on Illinois college campus at an hour to be announced later, probably at 6:30 p. m. It is the desire of the chapter to have a popular demonstration of patriotism. Mrs. William Barr Brown will be in general charge of the music and Rev. W. E. Collins will be the leader of the singing. It is the purpose to have a great many children and grownups take part and the invitation to attend is general.

No expense of any kind will attach to the celebration and the purpose is simply to promote a larger interest in patriotic affairs. More definite plans will be announced within a few days and, as already indicated, it is hoped that there will be a hearty response on the part of the people to take part in the program of the day.

VAUGHN PITCHES CUBS TO VICTORY OVER BRAVE

Chicago Wins 3 to 2 by Bunching Hits in Fifth Inning—Other National League Results.

Boston, June 4.—Vaughn pitched Chicago to a 3 to 2 victory over Boston today. Errors by Rehg, Rawlings and J. C. Smith combined with hits by Paskert, Killifer and Flack gave the visitors three runs in the fifth. A pass to Wickland, Smith's sacrifice, a double error by Zeider on Konetchy's grounder and a single by Rehg accounted for Boston's pair of runs.

ST. LOUIS 8; BROOKLYN 1

Brooklyn, N. Y., June 4.—St. Louis scored seven runs in the thirteenth inning today and defeated Brooklyn by a score of 8 to 1. With the score tied and three men on base, Kavanagh drove a ball along the third base line. Umpire Rigler called the hit fair but the Brooklyn players made no attempt to field the ball claiming the hit foul, and Kavanagh was credited with a home run. The game then deteriorated into a farce. Some of the fans rushed onto the field and one fan who winched Rigler on the back of the neck was seized by a special officer.

LIGHT-HEARTED WOMEN

A cheerful, light-hearted woman is the joy of a man's life. Beauty will fade, a good figure will change, but the charm of heart and cheerfulness will endure to the end. But how can a woman be cheerful and happy when dragged down by some female derangement, with a headache, backache, and often on the verge of a nervous breakdown.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard remedy for such ailments. During the last 40 years thousands of homes have been made happy by this woman's great remedy for woman's ills—adv.

Mrs. Beauchamp is improving.

Will Siles of Beards-town has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Berger. He left Saturday to visit friends at Versailles.

Sam Pelky continues very seriously ill with cancer of the month and throat.

Miss Edna Hall of Springfield visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hall Sunday.

The annual Junior-Senior Reception was given Friday night at the home of Miss Bernice Skinner which was artistically decorated with the class colors, red, white and blue. The class motto was given a prominent place between the parlors with the national color s gracefully draped to form a shield. In the dining room the decorations were even more beautiful and elaborate using the same color scheme and emblems. A large bouquet of red carnations formed the center piece and red ribbon streamers were suspended from the chandelier to the place cards which were liberty bells, covers being laid for four. A dainty two course luncheon was served.

A variety of interesting games provided a great part of the evening's entertainment.

Much credit is due the young ladies of the Junior class for the splendid manner in which they managed the entire affair, the success of which can be attested by the seniors who are loud in their praises of the royal manner in which they were entertained.

The Junior class is composed of the following: Bernice Skinner, Esther Yeakel, Estella Pond, Ina Mayes, Elena Bollyard, Edythe Unland and Harold McInnis. The Seniors are J. Kenneth Looman and Merle Hodges. Alvin Unland the assistant principal was also one of the guests.

LIEUT. GRAFF HAD UNUSUAL EXPERIENCES

Trip Overseas Delayed Seven Days Because of Ship Collision—Writes Interesting Facts.

Lieut. Byron Graff had a varied experience on his sea trip to France. The ship on which he first took passage collided at sea with another vessel and the damage was such that it was necessary for the ship on which Lieut. Graff and his associates were passengers to return to port. Thus the trip across the water was delayed for seven days. In a letter to his parents, Sheriff and Mrs. Graff here, the lieutenant gives the following interesting account of his experiences:

Dear Mother and Father:
Well back to old New York after seven days on water, but can't even see Broadway, not allowed off of the ship. We transfer to another ship some time today as our ship is all in. Had a bad accident at sea fourth night out, but everything came out in good style. But we were sure lucky. You see the ocean is so small that two of our ships collided and both were put out of commission. We have a hole in our side you could drive a big War tank thru and the others nose is smashed like all prize fighters—but at that I think she got the worst of it. Thank goodness. She did not have to be so affectionate. We liked her better before. Well anyway, everything is O. K., only makes it on sea three weeks instead of two. Edgar Alexander used to be pay master on this boat and last night when we got in he came aboard to see his fellow officers and one of the Navy Lieutenants brought him around to see me as I had told him I knew him. He sure looks fine and is well liked by his fellow officers. He is Junior Lieut. in army. Call his folks and tell them I saw him.

Don't know when you will get this, maybe not until I reach France, but understand the boat we are transferring to is faster than this tub. I wrote Bess and she will send you her letter as I gave out of this, and you can send this one to her. Not much difference but will seem like to letters. Can't write much details for fear they will not send at all. Was lucky to put Bess' letter off the way I did. Pays to have friends.

Not much news that I can write so lots of love and every thing is fine and that's a great deal as all those who had not been sick before accident were sure sick the next morning but I was fine all the time.

Will have interesting tales to tell my son when I get back if all the weeks keep pace with the last week. Lots of love.

Your son,
Byron.

Well I did not get this mailed in New York as they only let me mail the card you probably have by now. I'm writing 1/4 on Mother's day at sea, 1500 miles out. I went to church this morn. Put choros, solos, orchestra, hymn books and all. Preacher made a very fine talk on mothers. Had a very rough sea today and it rained hard all day. I go on duty tonight for first time, to night from 11:30 to 3:30. Am in charge of lookout. 10 officers go on every third night, was glad to get out of lookout duty as I had plenty of the other ship. Sure getting tired of this sea. Will be glad when we get on land. Our first trip sorter took the pep out of us. We are five days out on second trip now. We have a much nicer boat than the first one, but about same size.

We had nice moving pictures tonight. They make it as comfortable as possible to be so far from home. Will add more later and will mail upon arrival.

Well again—
Are nearing France and should have been there tonight but for a little hard luck again—the jona bunch. The steering apparatus broke down for about five hours this morning. The rest of convoy went on and left us, and a very dangerous part of submarine zone but we are all hardened to any thing now.

Sure tired of this sea and the wearing of these life preservers day and night. Haven't had my clothes off for so long, don't think I could sleep without them. Not allowed to take them off. Three week on here with the troubles and accidents is enough to drive a man distracted but I feel fine and not sea sick one minute.

Must mail this by 9 so as to get it back on this boat. No news that I can write much except I'm O. K. and everything going along nicely, but will be glad to get to work after a month of idleness.

Lots of love.

Your son,
Byron.

Harry Butcher at Camp Shelby. Eb Spink has just received the following letter from Harry Butcher, who is known to a number of Morgan County people.

Camp Shelby, Y. M. C. A. No. 6.
Hattiesburg, Miss.
June 3, 1918.

Mr. Eb Spink,
Jacksonville, Illinois.

Dear Sir:
I learn that a number of drafted men, who have been coming in our camp lately, are from your vicinity. In as much as my father, (Reverend W. R. Butcher) was so well known there, it occurred to me that a personal offer of my services to any of the families and neighbors of the enlisted boys here, would be appreciated, and therefore I would be glad to assist in any way in securing information, or getting in touch with the boys here.

Very respectfully yours,
Harry E. Butcher.

I. W. C. BOARD IN ANNUAL SESSION

Reports Presented for Year are of Gratifying Tone—Officers Are Re-elected.

The annual meeting of the trustees of Illinois Woman's college was held Tuesday, the session continuing from 9 o'clock in the morning until the early hours of the afternoon. Following custom not only members of the board of trustees but also conference visitors were the company and took part in the transaction of business and in the discussion of the various questions coming up for consideration. Dr. Harker presented his report for the twenty fifth year of his administration and as is true of preceding reports, it was one indicating the growth and prosperity of the college. The administration of affairs of all colleges has been more difficult, the past year than ever before and so it was especially gratifying to the trustees that the president was able to present a report so satisfactory in its details. This report will be read today at the commencement exercises and so become a matter of public record.

Before adjournment officers were re-elected as follows:
President—Dr. T. J. Pitner.
Secretary—Dr. J. R. Harker.
Treasurer—E. E. Crabtree.

These officers, together with Mrs. E. C. Lambert and Alexander Platt, constitute the executive committee. One of the most important problems which came before the board for consideration was that of securing assistance for President Harker in the manifold and increasing duties of the presidency. It is realized that to accomplish the greatest good for the college that President Harker must have either assistance in the field or greater relief from the detailed duties of administration. Bishop Thomas Nicholson offered some definite and valuable suggestions along the line of possible division of duties as did President Thomas F. Holgate of Northwestern university. This whole question after a most thorough discussion was referred to a special committee to be reported by the president and to include the president and secretary.

Another important matter considered was the addition of the study of the Spanish language to the college curriculum and it was the unanimous opinion that this should be added, as well as a special course in secretarialship. These additions were made in order to meet certain present day requirements. Among those present for the trustees' meeting in addition to Bishop Nicholson and Dr. Holgate were ex-Gov. Richard Yates, Springfield; James E. McMurray, Chicago; Dr. C. E. Welch, Westfield, N. Y.; H. B. Prentice, Mrs. F. K. Robeson, Champaign; Mrs. Ella Y. Orr, Pittsfield; Dr. E. A. McCarty, Quincy; Dr. J. C. Nate, Champaign; Rev. C. C. Whitted, Bloomington, Ind.; Dr. A. W. Harris, secretary board of education, Chicago; President, Lew Leseaman of Garrett Biblical institute. Mrs. Belle S. Lambert presented a very interesting report of the activities of the alumnae association and told of the financial condition of the several foundations which have been established in memory of the presidents of the college. As already indicated, the principal matters of business which came before the board will be presented in detail at the annual commencement exercises this morning.

We have a late shipment of seed corn from Marshall, Mo. This is proven to be the best growing corn planted in this section this year. If you have to replant or need any amount yet get your order in at once as this is the last we will get. C. W. Gard, 449 S. East St. Bell, 228.
